Alpha Suite Lite TM

Product Overview

Advanced Technologies Inc (Tekvend) is please to offer an inexpensive data collection program for the Copicode Alpha called Alpha Suite Lite.

Alpha Suite Lite is designed to separately collect usage data from any number of Alphas per location (site). Alpha Suite Lite is not designed to work with Alpha-X ethernet compliant keypad controllers.

Alpha Suite Lite records the Alpha Name (typically its internal serial number), the data and time of data collection, the total sales, the number of transactions, the copy count by copy type (up to four types supported, depending on the copier), and the total count for all copy types.

Usage readings are broken down by account code and total account value (either in money or units of copying activity). Once data is read from an Alpha, it can be saved as a text file, copied to clipboard (unformatted), exported as an Excel file, and/or printed. Once account usage data is read and saved, it can be erased. Multiple readings can be made of the same Alpha by pressing the Clear Button.
